Trials and failures
Friendships and dreams
All fade away
With the setting sun.

St. Joseph High School

Fremont, Ohio
Volume 20

Until

we find ourselves

our lives are but a gust of wind.

we have experienced both the sorrows of defeat and the joys of triumph

our lives
go on unchallenged.

a friend

Until

we travel a lonely path

And Until

we set an obtainable goal

our route to success lies behind closed doors.

And here we are reaching out

Needing GOD

Freshman Sophomore
Junior Senior
Questioning Confused
Mixed up minds
In a troubled time
Loving Caring
Searching Wanting
Finding a new beginning
In God's never ending love
Sharing Giving
In the light of His Word
"Who is God?" and "Who are we?"
God is LOVE
And we, that love

English: Accumulated Knowledge

English
An exploration
Of our native tongue
A search
Into the everlasting classics
Of past and modern literature
First learning the correct way
Of expressing ourselves
Then seeing how others
Have expressed themselves
In Shakespeare's timely Plays and stories
Or relevant early-American writers Suddenly finding valuable Meaning through rhythmic writing Poetry
Discovering ourselves

Left Therese Lindenberger makes use of the Birchard Library as a source of material for her term paper. Above Sandy Duhon shows her creativity in English II as she recites a few verses of her original poem. Below Discussion is easily aroused in English IV groups as they encounter a different literary area each quarter.

Foreign Relevance

Mending the flaws
Of unity
Through a unique oneness
Of expression
Latin, French, Spanish
Vocally living a foreign culture
Through tongue and textbook
Mastering the sounds
Of pronunciation
Sensing the need for Concentration, fluency
Appreciating the familiarity
Of our own language

Above John Halm returns a Latin test to his unhappy classmates who apparently did not understand their previous lesson. Right "Will it bite?" Patti Powers, French II student, hesitates to consume an escargot, an appetizing delicacy at a French restaurant.

Left Gilbert Wagner expresses authority over being at the other end while teaching Spanish I students Below John Fey and Mary Lou Zamora put a little laughter into the rather "hard to talk" language of Latin Far below Spanish III students tune in and listen to foreign dialogue, then try to say the same

Below Denise Stein, Art III student, develops her own technique of expression in abstract drawing. Right Ann Kiser and Reggie Root explain the 5 W's of a piece of sculpture; when, where, why who, and of what, to their class. Far below Using their imagination and an assortment of colored wire, Art students attempt to recreate a chicken and a bumble bee

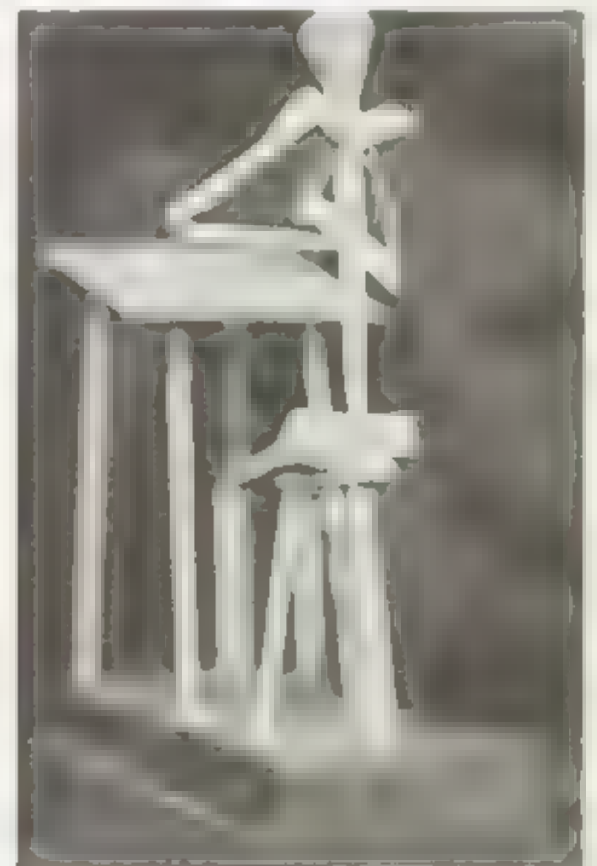

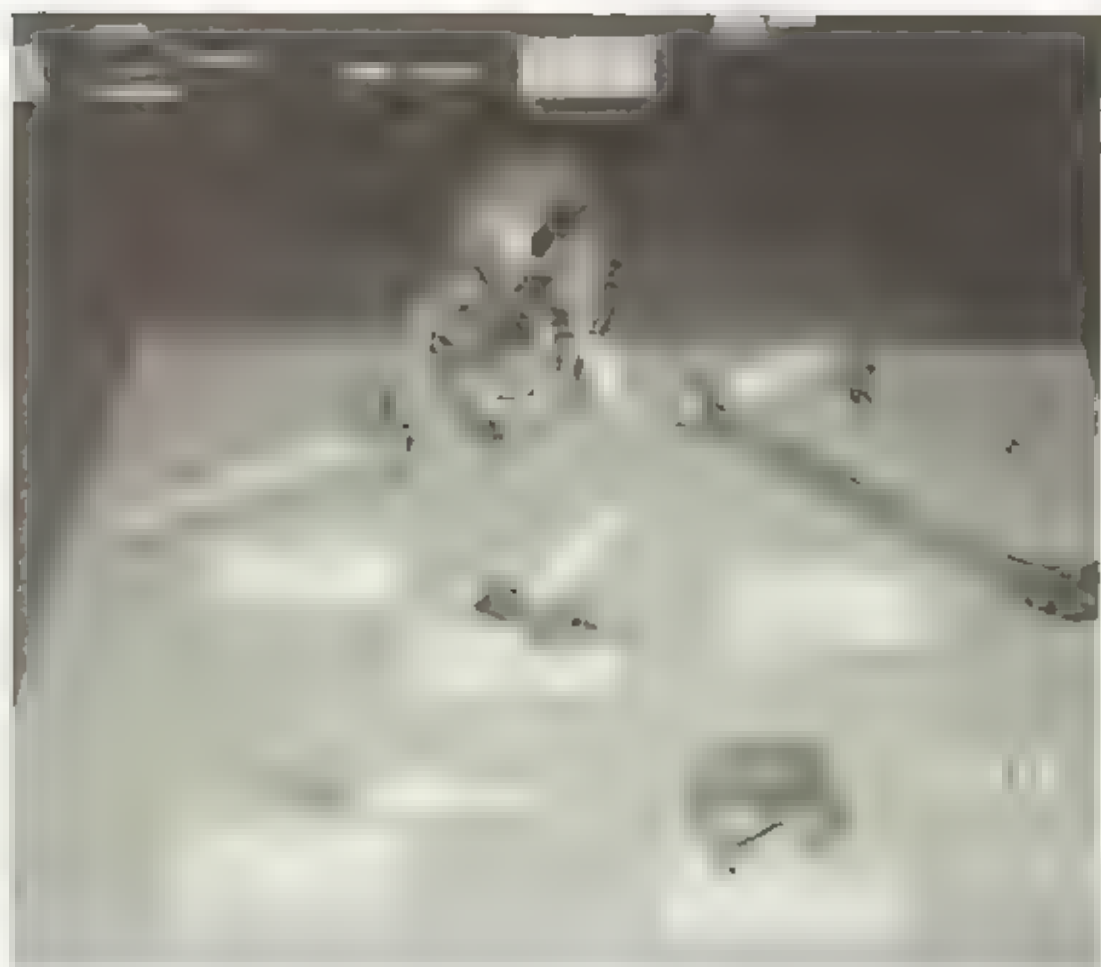

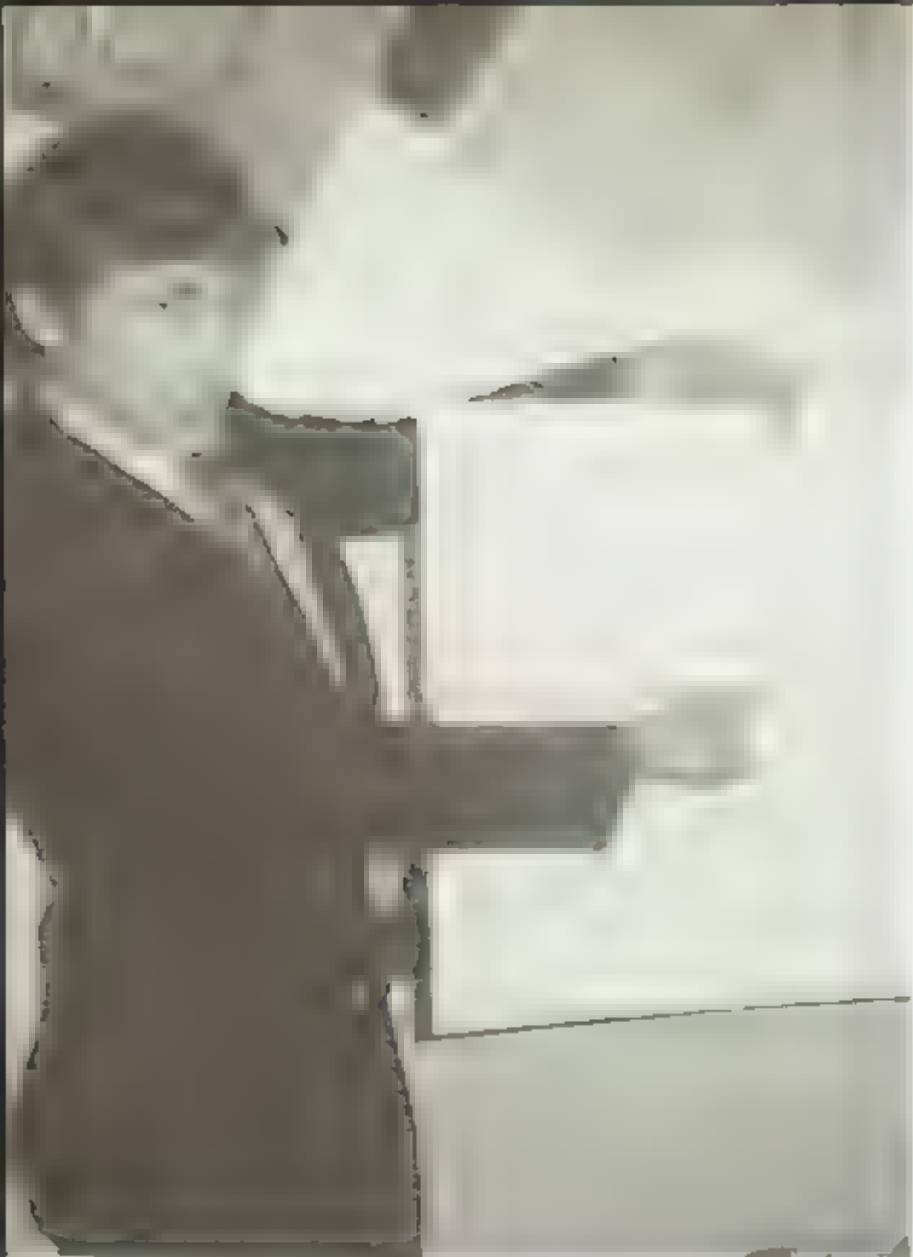

Self-Expression Through Design

Art
Interpretation
Of a person's thoughts
On paper
In sculpture
Through objects
Versatile talent
To create
The real and unreal
Ability to easily express
What the mind and imagination
Might encounter
Reflecting the wonderful beauty
Of man and nature
Being Yourself

Left Dave Frania is still undecided as to what his toothpick and glue creation will be. Below left Freshman Art students take a look at various modern artists

Far above American History's 11th District speaks the geography of a family tree. Far above right History students benefit from studying projects on the diseases and epidemics.

Above Dave Rinehart, a teacher, explains our American Culture with the help of the 11th District's early newspaper articles shown in a paper projector.

Learning To Make History

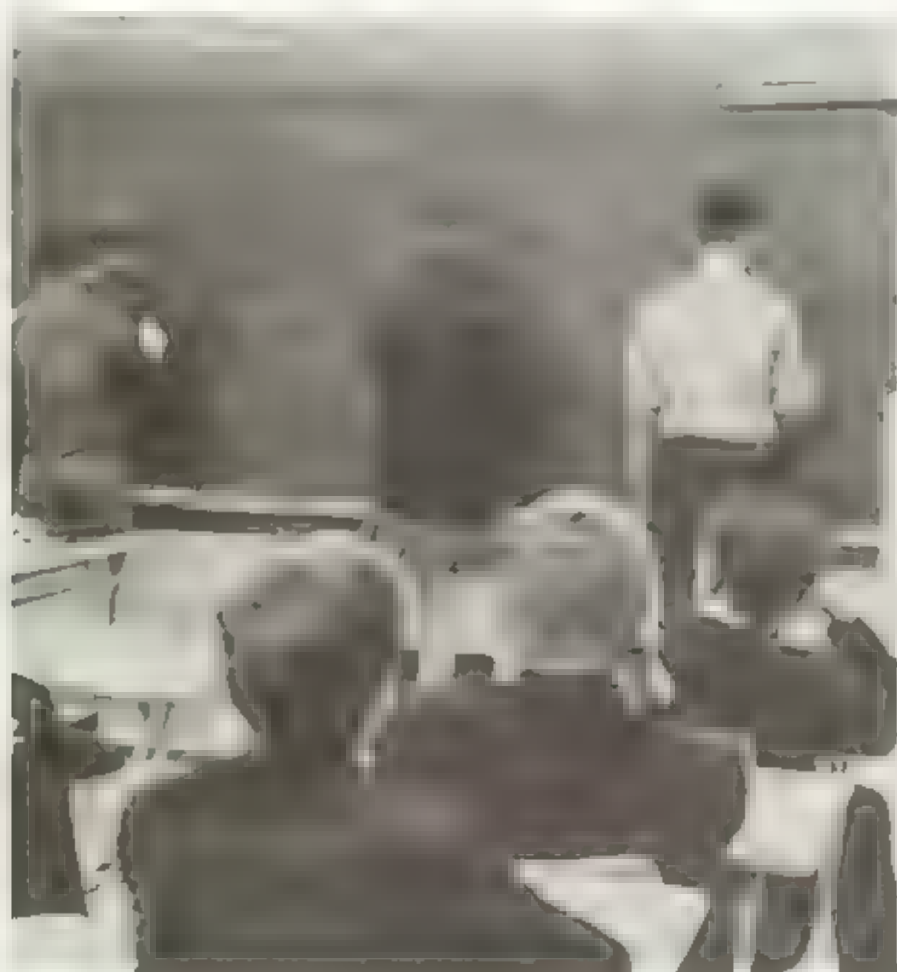

An adventure into
The minds, hearts and souls
Of our past founders
Scientists, political leaders
Explorers, reformists
Defenders of Peace
Reliving their successes
Democracy, freedom
And their failures
War, Communism, hate
Learning from their mistakes
In order to change today's evils Into tomorrow's future.

Left Dan Tolento, Becky Bauer, and Dave Luc listen to a sample of European music in their extensive study of its culture. Below left Dave Courtney proves he did his homework by pointing out to his classmates the scenes of current activities in India and Pakistan. Below Mr Smith seems to enjoy explaining the hasty German routes used in World War II to his Modern European History class.

Below As the problems get bigger and more complex, American students' needs expand rapidly. Far below The state academy demands raises the technical vocabulary of the engineering

Intelligence Vs. Frustration

Searching minds enhanced
In complex problems
Testing their intelligence Patience
Perseverance
Formulating equations, $a+b=c$ Diagramming angles, angle $a=90^\circ$
Relating problems, $2/6$ as to $4/12$
Experiencing frustration Depression
Finding confidence
And the long-lost solution
Feeling proud

Far left Algebra I students listen attentively to Coach Reineck's solution to a binomial math problem. Left Jim Kettner, after simplifying his problem through cancellation, can now see clearly his answer. Below far left As Mary Lynn Halm explains the techniques of trigonometry, Mary Rich tries a hand at it. Below Concentrated group work and a little humor contribute to a positive atmosphere for Math IV student.

Studying, Understanding, Discovering

Physiologists, Biologists, Chemists

People feeling the need for Adventure and experimentation

The founders of progress

That help make living a little easier

STUDYING the peculiarities of the human body

The formation of the layers of our earth

UNDERSTANDING the actions of complex chemicals

The endless formulas and diagrams of physics

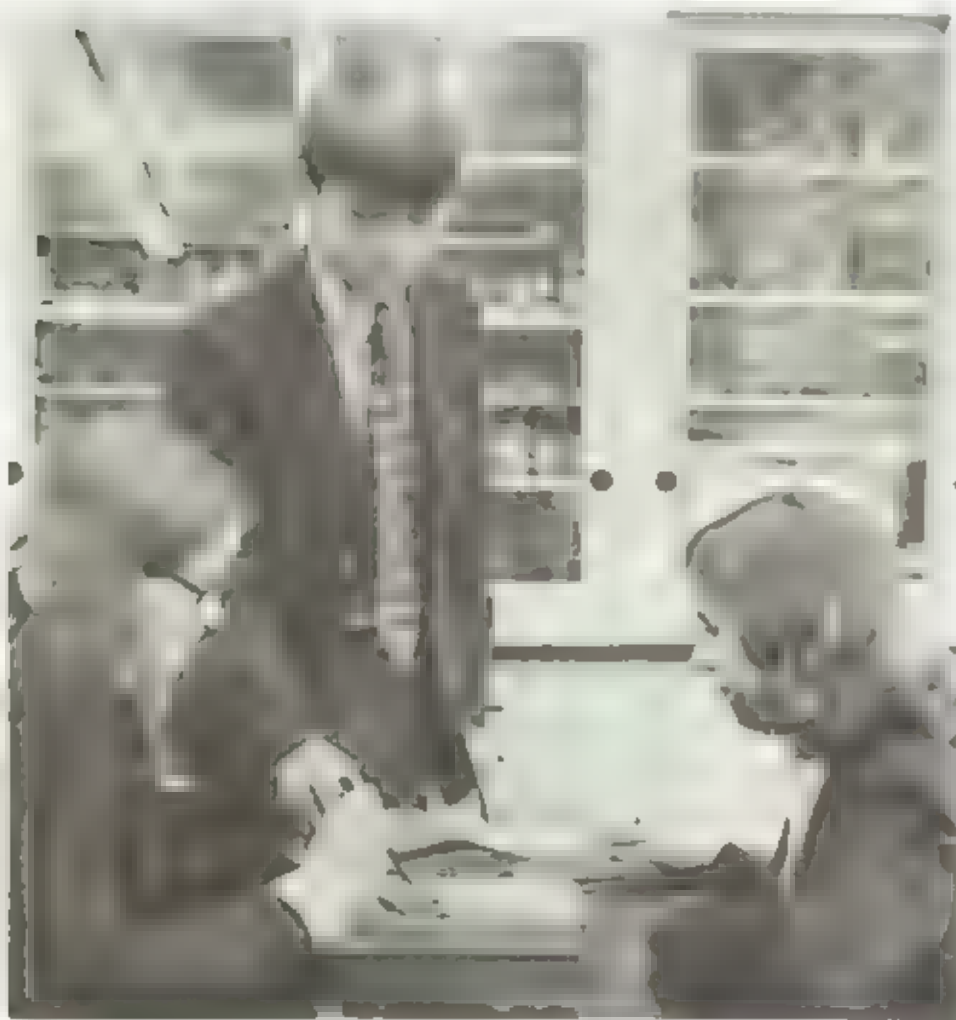

And the mysterious process of reproduction

DISCOVERING THE "why" of the ordinary functions of today's complicated world

Below Diane Geller, Mike Root, and Anne Molyet perform major surgery in dissecting a frog's "innards." Right Junior, Mike Vernarsky creates a never before thought of solution with the help of Mr. Sneider's chemicals and his ignorance of what was supposed to be put in Far above No, that's not a portable T.V. that Bill Raubenolt, Dick Kiser, and Mike Tolento are viewing, but an Oscilloscope screen being used for an experiment in physics. Above right Keith Maddy delivers the finishing touches to a facsimile of the human body as Linda Blue examines his work. Above Some of the Freshmen in the Earth Science class look at rocks that once made up our earth.

Debit Understanding Credit Experience Total = A Business Success

One student's dream: a business career
This dream will encounter
Notebooks full of meaningful scribbles Korectype that was used once too often Human adding machines
Problems of our unbalanced economy Lengthy loopholes in the law and a fulfilled sense of accomplishment

Below left Together Mrs. Gabel and students jump into the scribbles of Shorthand II for the first time

Right Gary Miesle, Donna Courtney, and Kevin Cullen can tell you that good posture is an important factor for accuracy in typing

Above left Scott Swint and Bill Steinbauer get a better understanding of an implied contract as they themselves experience it. Above right Marty Wolfe, while phoning in her homework receives a lesson in common courtesy. Above Mr Alge helps a Sophomore business math class to make their first step into the business world

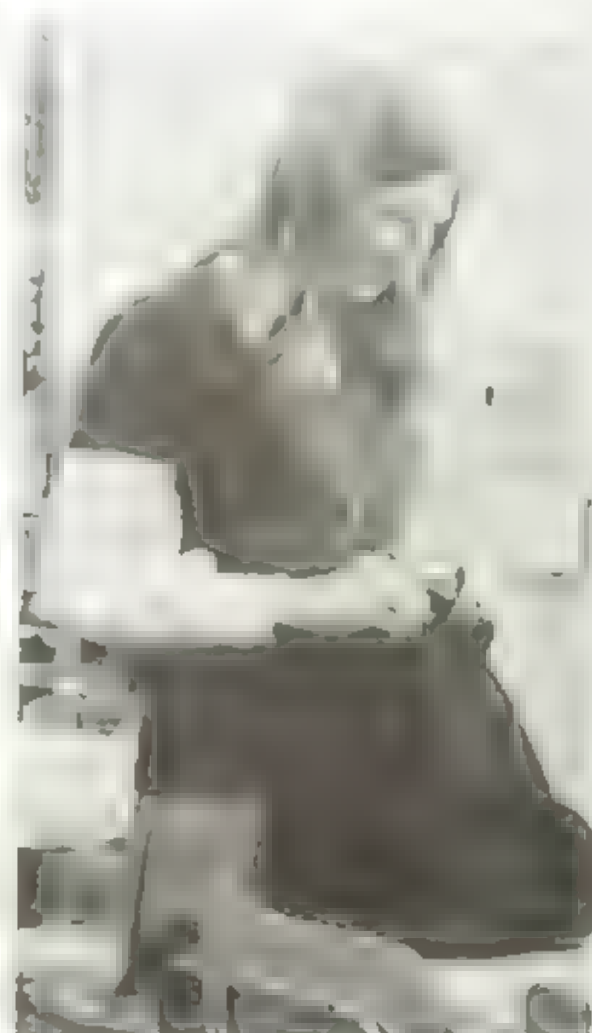

Development of Future Homemakers

Home Economics
 The arts of a housewife
 A skilled seamstress
 A conscientious cook
 Mastering the techniques of precision
 Through trial-and-error
 Developing their imagination
 In a never before square cookie
 Or a one armed suit
 Realizing the importance of symbols
 In patterns and recipes Accepting failures and Frustrations
 Along with perfection and Success

Above Freshman, Anne Lindenberg, is happy to say that she can now view her upside-down cake right-side-up. Below Marilyn Ochs and Louise Young cautiously take a poke to see whether their brownies are ready or not. Below right Cindy Schabel, Clothing I student, would rather look the other way than at the mistake she just made.

Phys Ed Relieves Daily Tensions

Students participate
In competitive activities Basketball
Chinese Socker
Calisthenics
Involving sportsmanship Determination
Awareness of one's ability
And the desire of a team
A time to let off steam Both vocally and physically
A fired-up ambition
Subdued by a cold shower
And it's back to the Hectic classroom

Left Bill Durnwald waits apprehensively to see whether his shot would hit the basket or go through it Below Speed and efficiency are impressed upon Freshman girls as they participate in a relay race

Looking Ahead

Concerned students
Knowing what they want
And ready to receive training
Transfer to Vanguard
Detailed instruction
Worthwhile experiences
In chosen careers
Welding, Electronics
Distributive Education
Child Care, Secretarv
Co-op training
For on-the-job advantages Preparation of youth today
In order to face

Left Tom Eberly, Graphic Comm. student, runs off a copy of his latest design. Far below left Junior girls in the General Office course learn how to accurately operate many modern office machines. Below left Cosmetology student, Jean Kramb takes her turn in the chair while a fellow classmate decides on an appropriate hair style. Below Senior, Steve Reinbolt learns how and where to place data processing cards in a computer.

Success Under Strain

We were told the odds
Were against us
We were told the job
Was too tough
And as we look back
We can only smile . . .
BECAUSE WE PROVED
That a handful of "kids
Who knew nothing
Of publishing a yearbook
Could stand up proud
And answer those doubts
With determination and will
With work and sweat
Tears and laughter
And never giving up

Crimson and Grey Come On Strong

Throughout the '71 season, the St. Joe defense stopped the opposition cold. The defense was the best in the league, relinquishing a mere 43 points (20 in the Sandusky Bay Conference) while posting 5 shutouts throughout the long campaign. Led by an all Senior front line, while using a six-one style defense, the Streaks set a new school record by intercepting 19 enemy aerals. The offense also came on strong the last half of the season scoring a total of 113 points the final five games. All-Conference linemen Dave Courtney and Steve Wasserman, together with All-SBC backs Chuck Beier and John Barrington, provided many thrills to Fremont area fans. They were strongly supported by second-teamers Bill Halm, John Frederick, Jack Kledzik and Jim Kettner. Their seven and three record was good enough to place them tenth in the Ohio High School Athletic Association computer poll for Northwest Ohio's Class AA schools. But most of all they brought back to St. Joe the Sandusky Bay Conference crown and all of the pride that goes with it

After a four year absence, St. Joseph's Crimson Streaks returned to the Sandusky Bay Conference throne room. Led by a never-say-die Senior class, the Streaks captured the title with a 6-2 win-loss record. After an initial conference setback from the Gibsonburg Golden Bears, the Crimson and Grey roared back with a 20-0 victory over state-ranked Huron. The next week was not so bright for St. Joe, as Margaretta posted a 7-6 upset. Coach Smith's charges never quit, however, and went on to win 5 straight conference victories. The Streaks were one-half of a game behind league leading Gibsonburg going into the final weekend of the season. The only St. Joe hope for the title would be a Golden Bear defeat, which was generously supplied by our rivals for the gold football, Sandusky St. Mary's. St. Joe went on to clinch the title by defeating Fostoria St. Wendelin 27-0.

Cagers Display Aggressiveness and Desire

Streaks Compile 15-3 Record

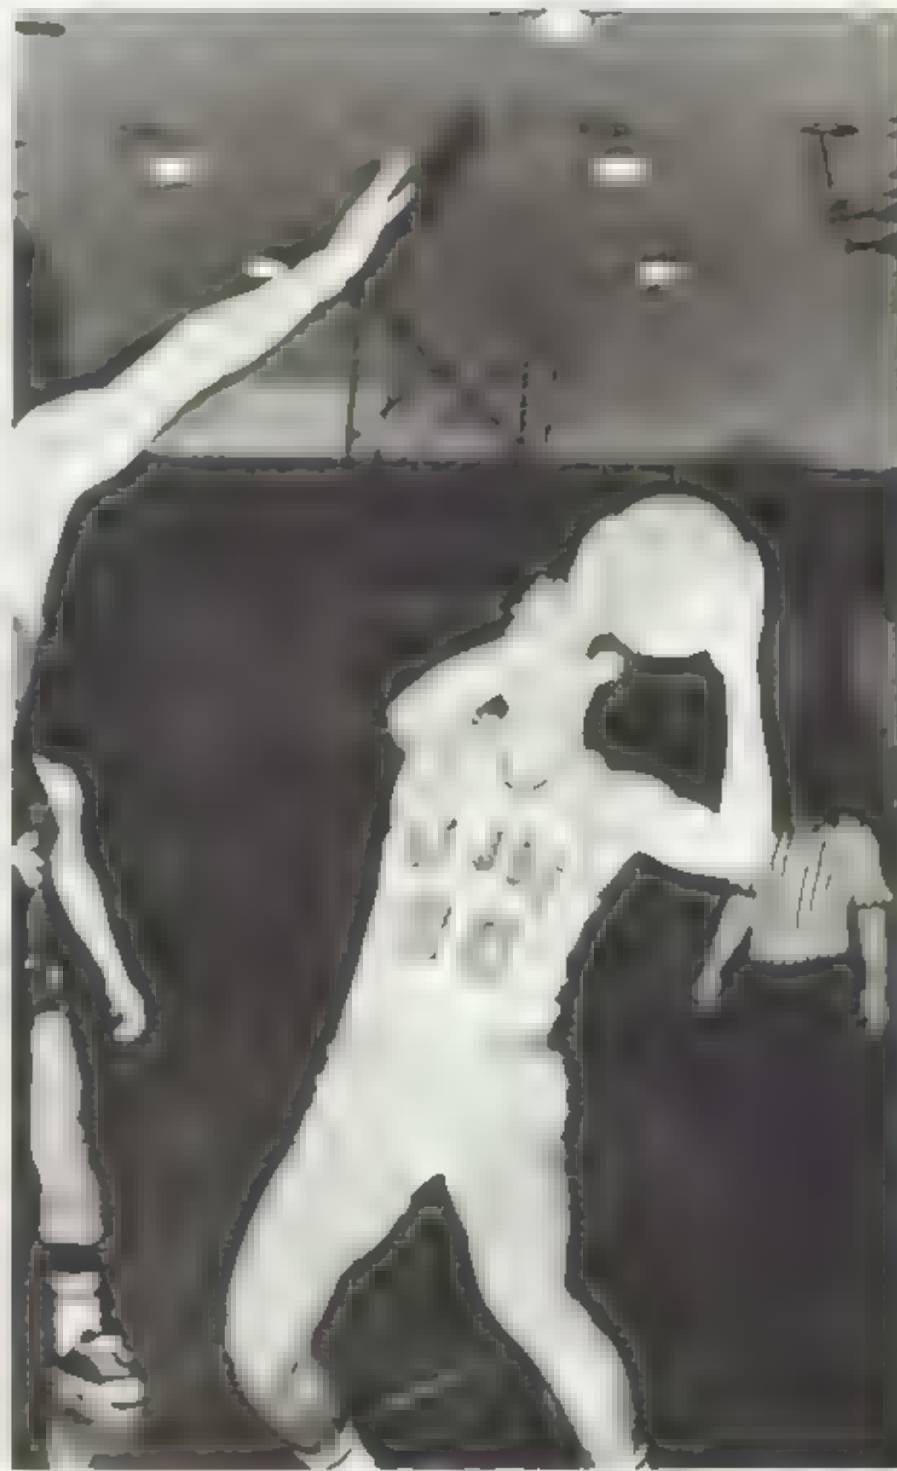

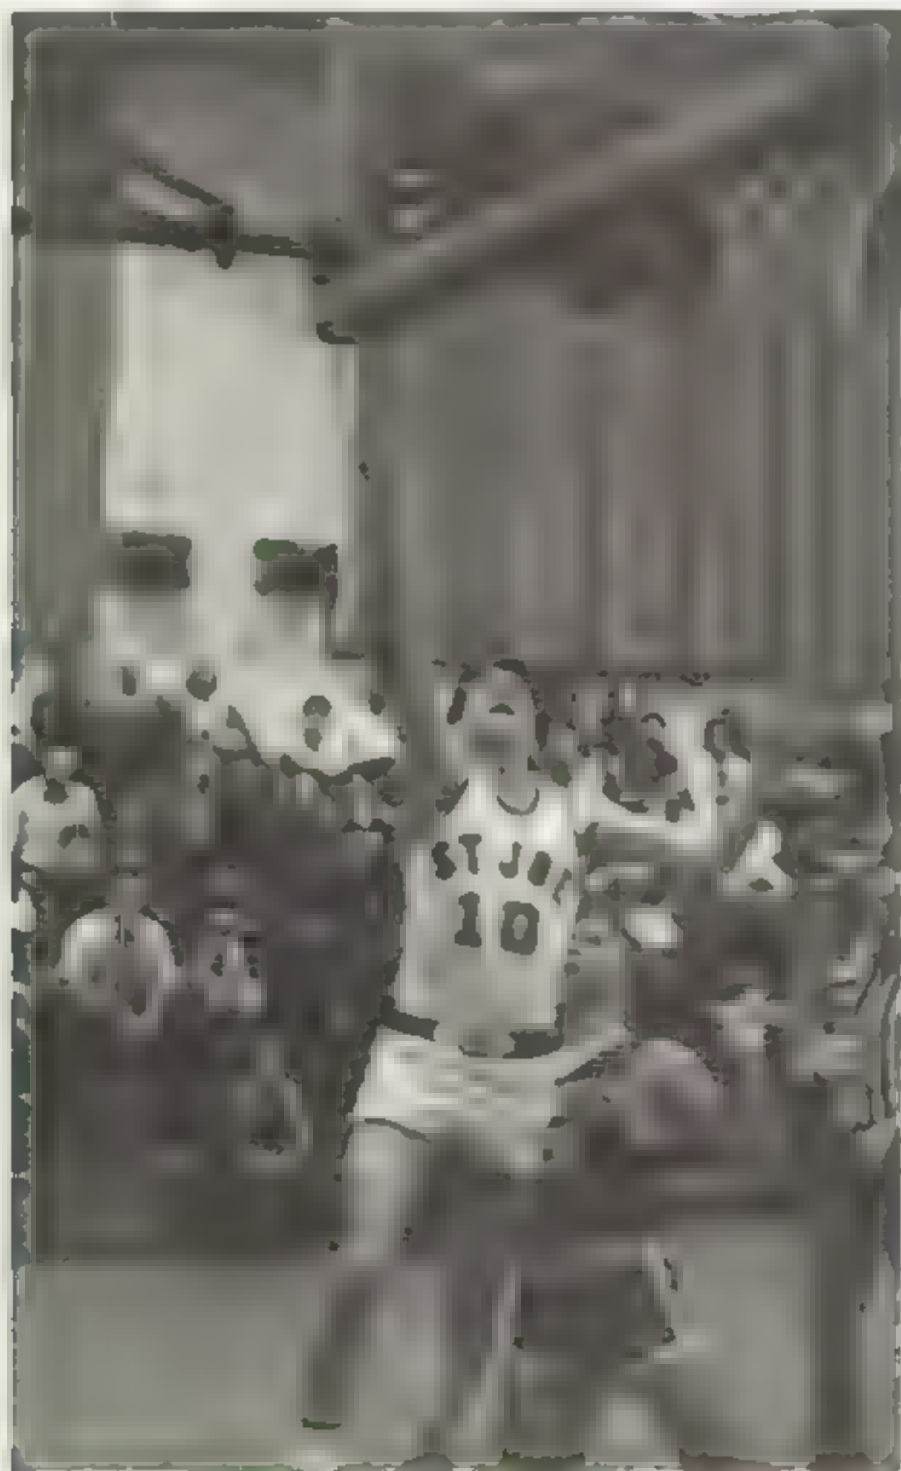

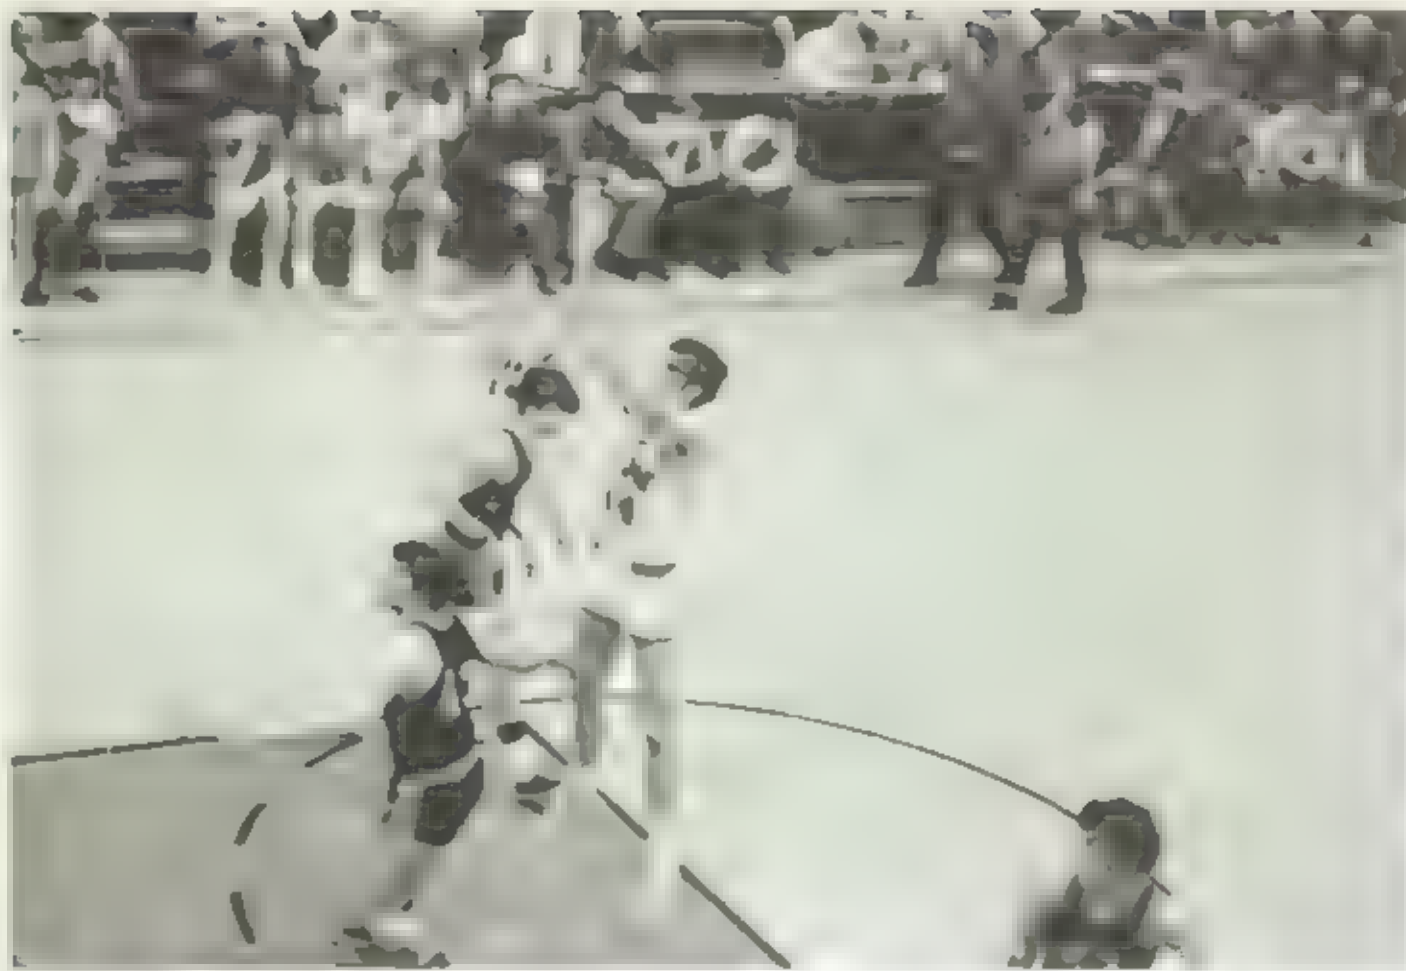

The St. Joe basketball squad entered the 1971-72 season full of hope. After soundly defeating our first three foes, we entered a crucial SBC contest with Huron. Unfortunately, we were defeated in the waning minutes of the game. The Streaks journeyed through the rest of the season, winning their remaining games, except for two, and those in overtime. Typical of the Streaks' aggressiveness and hustle was the last game of the season against Mansfield St. Pete's. In a most exciting display of persistence they pulled out a victory, the second in twelve years against the Spartans. The reserves posted a 10-8 record while the varsity was 15-3 overall and 6-2 in the conference. St. Joseph's High School is rightfully proud of the '71-72 squad and their head coach, John Kahle

With a flock of returning Seniors, St. Joe matmen brought prominence to the Streak wrestling program, guided by Coach Gary Logsdon. The season got off to an excellent start with the Crimson and Gray grabbing first place in the Bowsher Invitational Tournament, which consisted of all AAA schools except for St. Joe. The regular season resulted in only one loss (Huron) and that by a single point. We placed sixth in the CIT, in a field of the fifteen best Catholic prep schools throughout Ohio and Michigan. The Streaks ran away with the SBC crown, winning with a record 123 points. The St. Joe matmen won the first place trophy at the sectional match at Tiffin and advanced nine wrestlers to District competition. We placed sixth out of over sixty schools at Districts and advanced three wrestlers: Chuck Beier (District Champ), Dave Courtney (third) and Phil Gatt (fourth) to the State tournament in Columbus.

The members of the 1972 Josemont staff
 Would like to extend Our sincerest thanks
 To
 Mr. Doug Bynum
 Consolidated Graphic Arts
 Mr. Clinton Fehlhaber
 Fremont News-Messenger
 Mr. Richard Hertzler
 Bill Hotz
 Revco
 Mr. Harry Robinson
 S K. Smith Co
 These have lent
 Their valuable time
 In assisting us
 In the completion
 Of our task
 Without them
 Our Josemont
 Would not have been possible

But a new day dawns
Bringing with it
Another opportunity
To enrich ourselves
To better the world UNTIL . . .
